HSBC HOLDINGS PLC – GROUP REPORTING CHANGES

HSBC Holdings plc has today published comparative financial information in connection with certain elements of the previously announced changes to its financial reporting framework, which are effective from 1 January 2023.

In advance of the publication of HSBC Holdings plc's 1Q 2023 Earnings Release, the attached data pack presents the impact on the previously reported financial information of HSBC Holdings plc and its consolidated subsidiary undertakings (the 'Group') for each quarter in the years 2021 and 2022, and the full years 2021 and 2022 of (i) the change in how we compute 'adjusted performance' to no longer exclude significant items and (ii) the reporting of performance by our main legal entities.

A copy of the data pack is also available to view and download at <https://www.hsbc.com/investors/results-and-announcements/all-reporting>

As a consequence of the reporting changes set out in HSBC Holdings plc's Annual Report and Accounts 2022 and in the annual report for the fiscal year ended 31 December 2022 filed with the SEC on Form 20-F on 22 February 2023 (the '2022 Form 20-F'), constant currency performance will be computed by adjusting comparative reported results only for the effects of foreign currency translation differences between the relevant periods. This will enable users to understand the impact of foreign currency translation differences on the Group's performance.

We will separately disclose 'notable items', which are components of our income statement which management would consider as outside the normal course of business and generally non-recurring in nature.

While our primary segmental reporting by global business remains unchanged, effective from 1 January 2023 the Group will change the supplementary presentation of results from geographical regions to main legal entities to better reflect the Group's structure.

The reporting of the Group's main legal entities will comprise the following:

- The Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation Limited
- HSBC UK Bank plc
- HSBC Bank plc
- HSBC North America Holdings Inc.
- HSBC Bank Canada
- HSBC Bank Middle East Limited
- Grupo Financiero HSBC, S.A. de C.V. (Mexico)
- Other trading entities

While these reporting changes will impact the previously reported 'adjusted' results of the Group and global business operating segments, they have no impact on and do not change the consolidated reported financial results of the Group or segmental results.

HSBC Holdings plc – Group Reporting Changes/2

For illustrative purposes, the results of our global business operating segments and additional information have been re-presented following the changes outlined above. The re-presentation has been included in the attached data pack for:

- Quarterly periods from 1Q21 to 4Q22; and
- Full year 2021 and 2022.

The data pack does not include the impact on the Group's previously reported financial information following the implementation of IFRS 17 'Insurance Contracts', effective 1 January 2023. A transition document with quarterly IFRS 17 comparatives for 2022 is expected to be provided alongside the Group's 1Q23 results publication on 2 May 2023.

The Group's reported results are prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards ('IFRSs'), as detailed in the HSBC Holdings plc Annual Report and Accounts 2022. To measure performance, the Group also uses non-GAAP financial measures, including those derived from reported results that eliminate foreign currency translation differences between periods. The 'constant currency' measure is described below.

The global business segmental results for comparative periods are presented on a constant currency basis in accordance with IFRS 8 'Operating Segments', as detailed on page 360 of HSBC Holdings plc's Annual Report and Accounts 2022 and on page 385 of the 2022 Form 20-F. Constant currency performance is computed by adjusting comparative period reported results for the effects of foreign currency translation differences, which distort period-on-period comparisons.

The Group considers that constant currency performance provides useful information for investors by aligning internal and external reporting, and reflects how management assesses period-on-period performance.

HSBC HOLDINGS PLC

Changes to Financial Reporting Framework Data Pack

4Q 2022

The attached data pack presents the impact on the previously reported financial information of HSBC Holdings plc and its consolidated subsidiary undertakings (the 'Group') for each quarter in the years 2021 and 2022, and the full years 2021 and 2022 of (i) the change in how we compute 'adjusted performance' to no longer exclude significant items and (ii) the reporting of performance from geographical regions to main legal entities to better reflect the Group's structure, which are effective from 1 January 2023.

Our primary segmental reporting by global business remains unchanged.

The financial information on which this supplement is based is unaudited and has been prepared in accordance with HSBC's significant accounting policies as described in the Annual Report and Accounts 2022. The financial information does not constitute financial statements prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards ('IFRSs'), is not complete and should be read in conjunction with the Annual Report and Accounts 2022, the Interim Report 2022, and other reports and financial information published by HSBC.

Unless stated otherwise, all information is on a reported basis. Where disclosed, constant currency performance information is computed by adjusting reported results for the effects of foreign currency translation differences, which distort period-on-period comparisons. We consider constant currency performance provides useful information for investors by aligning internal and external reporting; and reflects how management assesses period-on-period performance. The global business segmental results adhere to the Group's IFRS 8 'Operating Segments' definitions as detailed on page 360 of the Annual Report and Accounts 2022. This may differ from the segmental disclosures in individual legal entities' Annual Report and Accounts.

'Notable items' refers collectively to the items that management would ordinarily identify and consider separately when assessing performance.

The quarterly comparatives are translated at average 4Q22 exchange rates for the income statement or at the prevailing rates of exchange on 31 December 2022 for the balance sheet. The yearly comparatives are translated at average FY22 exchange rates for the income statement or at the prevailing rates of exchange on 31 December 2022 for the balance sheet. The income statement for the 12 months to 31 December 2022 is translated at the average rate of exchange for the 12 months to 31 December 2022.

1 Staff expenses are presented net of software capitalisation costs. During 4Q21, the allocation of internally capitalised software costs between staff expenses and general administrative expenses was updated to better reflect the allocation of the underlying costs being capitalised. The YTD impact recognised in 4Q was an increase of $733m in staff expenses, offset by a corresponding decrease in general administrative expenses. There is no impact on total operating expenses and comparatives have not been re-presented.
